Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/3/07 has been entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 5-7, and 13-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.
4. Claims 1 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wehmeyer (6169543) in view of Minoura (6323883), Proehl (6532589), and Rasanky (5960406).

Art Unit: 2623

As for claims 1 and 7, Wehmeyer discloses:

A reservation information setting apparatus operable for use with a television receiver having a display unit, said apparatus, comprising:

schedule table forming means for controlling a display of a schedule table that includes calendar information – Fig. 6; col. 16, lines 4-16, col. 11, lines 37-41, col. 12, lines 49-51;

date selection accepting means for accepting a selection input of a target date in said schedule table – col. 14, lines 10-15;

schedule information accepting means for accepting an input of user schedule information for a respective target date – Fig. 5A; col. 12, lines 59-63, col. 13, lines 42-51, col. 14, lines 4-15, col. 16, lines 50-65;

reservation information accepting means for accepting an input of reservation information for a broadcast program on a respective target date – col. 12, lines 13-17; and said user schedule information representative of a number of user events pertaining to a user which are not related to broadcast programs – (i.e. personalized calendar function such as a reminder to “Call Mom”; col. 12, lines 49-51, lines 59-60, col. 13, lines 41-50, col. 16, lines 50-65).

However, Wehmeyer fails to disclose:

said schedule table forming means being operable to control the display of the schedule table so as to enable one of calendar information to be displayed on a single display screen of the display unit;

Art Unit: 2623

each of the number of user events is displayable as a pictograph and/or text said schedule table forming means including means for enabling each said pictograph and/or text of each user event and information including a start time of each accepted broadcast program occurable within a respective month to be displayed on the single display screen of the respective month of calendar information, in which information of each non-accepted broadcast program is not displayed on the single display screen of the respective month of calendar information.

In an analogous art, Minoura discloses:

schedule table forming means being operable to control the display of the schedule table so as to enable one month of calendar information to be displayed on a single display screen of the display unit - (Fig. 6, col. 4, lines 8-15, lines 26-28, lines 34-

each of the number of events is displayable as a pictograph and/or text - (52 – Fig. 6, col. 4, lines 40-46)

schedule table forming means including means for enabling said pictograph and/or text of each user event and information of each accepted broadcast program occurable within a respective month to be displayed on the single display screen of the respective month of calendar information – (Referring to Fig. 6, the user has a tennis game (52) scheduled on September 30th. - col. 4, lines 40-46).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify Wehmeyer's invention to include the above mentioned limitation, as taught by Minoura, for the advantage of providing a visual display of the user's events for the respective month on a television.

However, Wehmeyer and Minoura fail to teach information of each non-accepted broadcast program is not displayed on the single display screen of the respective month of calendar information and wherein the start time of the broadcast program is displayed.

In an analogous art, Proehl discloses information of each non-accepted broadcast program is not displayed on the single display screen of the respective month of calendar information (Fig. 9; col. 8, lines 10-30).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify Wehmeyer and Minoura's invention to include the above mentioned limitation, as taught by Proehl, for the advantage of displaying only relevant information pertaining to the user and to not over-clutter the display.

However, Wehmeyer, Minoura, and Proehl fail to teach the start time (respective broadcast time) of the broadcast program is displayed.

In an analogous art, Rasanky teaches the start time of football games is displayed along with the title of the program – (Fig. 16A; col. 17, lines 3-18).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify Wehmeyer, Minoura, and Proehl's invention to include the above mentioned limitation, as taught by Rasanky, for the advantage of displaying a personal calendar with pertinent information in one view as opposed to selecting the title of content to then view the supplemental information.

Claim 5 contains limitations of claim 1 and is analyzed as previously discussed with respect to that claim. Claim 5 additionally calls for the following which Wehmeyer discloses:

said reservation information including said target date and a broadcast time on said target date – col. 11, lines 11-17; reservation information storing means for storing said reservation information for said broadcast program on said target date – col. 11, lines 11-17; and viewing control means for controlling the display of said broadcast program upon arrival of said target date and said broadcast time in said stored reservation information – col. 12, lines 11-17.

Claim 6 contains limitations of claim 5 and is analyzed as previously discussed with respect to that claim. Claim 6 additionally calls for the following:

information signal storing means (electronic host device – set top box) for storing an information signal – col. 12, lines 12-18; and recording control means for controlling the recording of said broadcast program in said information signal storing means upon arrival of said target date and said broadcast time in said stored reservation information – col. 12, lines 11-17.

Art Unit: 2623

1. Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wehmeyer in view of Minoura, Proehl, and Rasanky as applied to claim 1/5/6/7 above, and further in view of Kahl (5936625).

As for claims 13-16, Wehmeyer discloses setting personal reminders (such as "Call Mom") in an EPG system.

However, Wehmeyer, Minoura, Proehl, and Rasanky fail to specifically disclose wherein the number of events includes a meal engagement and/or attendance at a concert.

In an analogous art, Kahl discloses wherein the user schedules personal activities in advance such as lunch for the advantage of being reminded of future appointments – (see Dec. 6 – Fig. 2).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify Wehmeyer, Minoura, Proehl, and Rasanky's invention to include wherein the number of events includes a meal engagement and/or attendance at a concert, as taught by Kahl, for the advantage of being reminded of future appointments.
